scholars made good advancement. Owing to sickness she was obliged to resign after teaching four weeks of the winter term.

We were fortunate in securing the services of Miss Dorothy R. Palmer to finish the winter term. Miss Palmer has taught several terms in this town and her work has been appreciated.

The spring term at the East Village was taught by Ethel D. Evans with her usual success of the several previous terms she has taught in the school. Miss Evans resigned at the end of the term and Miss Isabelle C. Swain was engaged to teach the fall and winter terms. The school under her care has shown marked improvement.
